

LET STAY AT WORK WORK FOR YOU.

It's a working solution to workplace injuries for you and your employees:

A medical best practice that helps workers with on-the-job injuries recover faster.

A return-to-work best practice that helps employers reduce workers' comp premium costs.

A best practice for employers to help skilled, injured workers maintain their foothold in a difficult job market.

“Stay at Work is a nice benefit. It’s nice for cross training, makes our employees feel important and adds value to our business.”

– Fern Shumway, Seaport Steel, Seattle
$45,846 in reimbursements

STAY AT WORK: IT’S GOOD FOR BUSINESS.

When your employee gets injured at work, providing doctor-approved light duty during recovery can improve your employee’s life — and your bottom line.

Stay at Work pays now, and later:

- Help reduce workers’ comp costs.
- Support an injured worker while recovering.
- Enhance morale in the workplace.
- Retain a valued employee.
- Keep an injured worker connected to your workplace.

DO I QUALIFY?

Can you answer “yes” to all four questions below? If so, you may qualify:

- Are you paying workers’ compensation premiums to L&I?
- Were you the employer when the worker was injured?
- Did the doctor give written physical restrictions that prevent your employee from doing his or her usual job?
- Do you have an available, light-duty or transitional job that the doctor has approved?

WHAT DOES YOUR BUSINESS GET?

If you can find a safe, light-duty or transitional job for your injured worker until the employee is medically cleared for full duty, Stay at Work could reimburse for:

Half the base wage paid to the injured worker:

- Up to 66 days within a consecutive 24-month period — up to $10,000 per claim.

Expenses to meet the injured worker’s unique needs:

- Training fees or materials up to $1,000 per claim.
- Tools up to $2,500 per claim.
- Clothing up to $400 per claim.

APPLYING IS EASY.

Go to StayAtWorkProgram.com and follow the instruction to apply.

We want to pay you! Make sure you:

- Carefully follow instructions.
- Fill the form out completely.*
- Provide all required documentation.

“It’s a financial benefit to a company to create light-duty in the first place. Getting the Stay at Work reimbursement is even better.”

– Nancy Nelson, Humanix, Spokane
$6,545 in reimbursements
